COOMBS AGAINST PRESSING HARD FOR PATRONAGE

Republican County Chairman Says He Hopes Others Will Take Same Stand

"Personally, I am not in favor, and I hope the majority of the county committee will not be in favor either, of trying to direct the distribution of city political patronage."

This was the comment made today by Chairman Walter Coombs of the Republican county committee, upon a meeting of the committee held late yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall of the supervisors.

Admitting that a great deal of talk was indulged in yesterday about getting jobs for the Republican "faithful" and about taking steps to secure the dismissal of Democrats in the county's employ, Chairman Coombs maintained today that the committee's policy is not to go into these matters in detail.

"I feel that the committee is a campaign committee, and its main activities cease when the campaign is over," he said. "We will, if requested, inform city officials as to the party standing of any candidate for a job, but I don't think we should press the patronage system."

Yesterday's meeting was called ostensibly to fill the vacancy of vice-chairman left by the removal from Hawaii of George G. Guild. John H. Wise was elected to succeed him. Chairman Coombs had also invited in a number of Republicans to talk over the good of the party, among them being Delegate Kuhio, Mayor Lane, Lorrin Andrews, Elia Long, Eli Crawford, D. L. Conkling, Eugene Buffandeau, William Lucas and W. C. Achi.

Achi made a talk which impressed the "non-patronage" members favorably. He said that the present Republican administration is being blamed for many things not its fault and suggested educational work. He also complained of the city's buying labor from firms employing Japanese labor, but W. H. McInerney of the committee said that the city had the right to do so under the law and if anything is at fault, it is the law, not the supervisors, who are trying to effect economies.

Charley Clark, Elia Long and others talked along the line of spreading the patronage "right" and complaint was made that an influential Democrat, unnamed, is in the city's employ.

FIRE RECORDS LAST QUARTER MOST PLEASING

Although fires have been as numerous this year as any, resulting damages have been slight. Chief Charles H. Thurston said today that there had not been one fire this year that could be called particularly bad.

"But one never can tell about this fire fighting game," said the chief. "We might run along for 364 days with nothing doing and then pick up one on New Year's eve bad enough to make up for the whole year."

During the month of March and April, the department averaged a call every other day. In January there were only three alarms. So far this month there have been but two.

"Our business is a good deal like the newspaperman's," said the chief, "for we never know just what's coming next. It is different in this way, however, that we are always looking for something but hoping we won't find it while the reporters are tearing up and down the street hoping they won't miss whatever is happening."
